

Advent Draw 2017

Daily Drawing Prompts for December 1st – 25th
Jenniferedwards.com

You may follow these prompts or draw what you like each day. The point is to spend just a few minutes of our day, slowing down to sketch and consider the Reason for the Season. I have chosen each of these because they, in some way, have to do with Christ's coming to earth as a baby. See if you can find a connection with the words that do not have an obvious link to Advent.

The bold and bracketed numbers fall on the Sundays of Advent. The prompt for these days are taken from the meaning of each Candle in an Advent Wreath.

May you be drawn closer to Emmanuel as you draw. For He has indeed come to us!

Artfully Yours,
Jennifer
